

Achieving Outcomes for High Risk Individuals Via Three Key Performance Indicators

This rectangular infographic shows the three key performance indicators that engage with the care coordination program.

OneCare tracks progress towards key performance indicators for health service areas that engage with the care coordination program. These three key performance indicators include inpatient utilization, emergency department utilization, and readmission rates.